Announcing the 3rd International Scientific Conference on Hardwood Processing (ISCHP³11)

October 16–18, 2011 Blacksburg, Virginia

ISCHP³11 will bring industry professionals, scientists, association representatives, government employees, suppliers, and customers together to share knowledge, ideas, and to network. The conference will cover hardwood related issues from the source to the customer, discuss recent developments, and show paths into the future. ISCHP³11 will have a special focus on sustainability and certification and help to further promote the important role of the world's leading renewable, carbon-absorbing raw material.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Industry professionals
Engineers and consultants
Industry suppliers
Equipment suppliers
Customers
Scientists and applied researchers
Industry association officials
Government specialists
Environmentalists and NGOs

BENEFITS TO PARTICIPANTS

ISCHP³11 will benefit attendees with ideas and knowledge from practitioners, scientists, and other experts from around the globe about the hardwood value chain – from the forest to the end customer.
